May 1st is celebrated around the world as International Workers Day to honor the struggle for workers rights. On May 1st, 1886, and in the days that followed, Chicago police opened fire, attacking thousands of workers on strike. Every year since, workers across the globe have stood together to unite all of our struggles – an injury to one, is an injury to all!

After the march to Haymarket, join the BMDC & get on the #111 bus to Chelsea!
